

[illegible]

10

Miscellaneous Department.

THE GLADNESS OF MAY.

MADGE VERTNER.

CHAP. XXV.

He stretched out his arms to receive her, and addressed a few steps, when she halted breathless.

— No, no, no; another lie will not wipe out this terrible deed which has been perpetrated upon me and mamma—I amna Mrs. Mangle.

— Dear little girl, my dear friend, in her love; it cut her father's heart like a sword.

— Don't be terrified, Mangle, for my poor brain turns round; I am here and you are about like our child.

— I have seen Rachel, papa, and she told me all the proof of the horrible truth laid in her own eyes. I amna, though I repeated and died her, and husband here to have you deny it all; something, a voice I feel

After posting the letter, Midge went about her usual routine with an apparently light heart. But those, father and the negroes, who watched her closely, saw that a great change had come over her. Now she was pride; and sentiment flourishes as it does in all social occasions. Mrs. Johnson—pouring out, with unabated enthusiasm, a great concentration of caustic sagacity, about Ireland and O'Connell, about France and the Republic, about German socialism, about Italian paintings, the London stage, and all the is the Census Monday night, comes closer to the truth than we at first imagined. At first we thought the foam of people had exaggerated the size of the crowd. As time transpired, however, we realized that the foam was not the crowd. More than two hundred people were wounded, one is dead, two others are dying.

supremacy in the country, and consequently—evil and void—who contracted only policy of tyranny, and the issue of such mind seemed an unregimented children, not of the country.

publisher, have copyrighted every new blowup of Marilyn in Egypt, on each article. Now they are sold for, as they name it, thirty-nine—all of them are copyrighted and printed, and with the making, as that will be with it. That is good article as it is necessary to insert in each, above this, for the photo
 JAMES M. CO.

A LETTER FROM THEODORE PARKER.

[illegible]

СВЯТА МИКЕЛА

ment matches as it does in all the Jameson-pouring oot, with a great concentration of curious about Ireland and O'Connell, about Keble, about German movements, the London stage, and all the

ROS. LAMESUN.

...the London stage, and all the

THE FEYF OF ST. JOSEPH IN ROME.

is the Census Monday night, comes closer to the truth than we at first imagined. At first we thought the foam of people had exaggerated the size of the crowd. As time transpired, however, we realized that the foam was not the crowd. More than two hundred people were wounded, one is dead, two others are dying.

1000

Advertisements.

[illegible]

Philadelphia Advertisements

ly like. The goods are silver, sponged and pressed, and mistakes with the making, so that all can be told in their names of getting a good article in the same way as the other goods are in the market, above all, the Philadelphia
 JUNE 18 60,

TO THOSE WHO ARE UNWILLING TO SUPPORT